General Exhibit Information:

- (1) Make sure you read and clearly understand the contents of this announcement.
- (2) Candleberry will take a 30% commission on all sales.
- (3) This is judged exhibit with a reception.

Exhibit Information:

1. A maximum of three (3) images (framed, canvas, or other media) with no image size smaller than 8" x 5" appropriately matted and framed. No image shall be submitted with an external perimeter (e.g., framed or gallery wrap canvas) greater than 84". (For example - the total perimeter of an 18" x 24" framed print or canvas is 84").

2. Exhibit Theme: "Life on the Eastern Shore". This is a broad theme that provides room for your own interpretation and expression of life on the Eastern Shore of MD. Theme Suggestions: Boats, Watermen, Eastern Shore Landscapes, Shore Scenes, Wildlife, Eastern Shore Events, and most especially scenes in and around St Michaels and Easton. (Local scenes may provide more opportunity to sell your work to Christmas Shoppers).

Frames should be dark in color and constructed of metal or wood; mats should be white or off-white in color. As with all TCC exhibits, images must be wired for hanging. No saw-tooth hanging devices. Images will be hung by standard picture hangers. There are no gallery rods available in this venue.

3. Image Time Limit: There is no time limit requirement. However, if your image has already won a TCC award (print or digital), it will not be eligible for TCC "Print of the Year Award" next June.

4. Judging. As stated, this is a judged event. Our judge for this exhibit will be Mr. Jay P. Fleming, noted author and photographer. Photographs will be judged during the first week of the exhibit. We will hold a reception from 4-6pm on 28 October. Mr. Fleming will address the group at this time.

5. Tracking/Accountability: Preregistration of all prints is required. A standard TCC Registration form will be emailed to all exhibit participants. Fill out and return the registration form prior to 2 October. Participating members will also receive a Candleberry Gallery exhibit contract to fill-out and return as well. Each print should be labeled on the back with the photographer's name, image title, sale price (or marked "not for sale"), and contact info. The Candleberry and TCC will not be held responsible in the event of theft or any damage that may occur over the duration of this exhibit. The photographer is responsible for both the safe delivery and pick-up of his/her images.

6. Participation. Send an email to exhibits@tidewatercameraclub.org with the following:
